

Merlin's Puzzle Crystal Requirements

You will need to purchase and bring two quartz crystals to class to receive a copy of Merlin's Puzzle and a copy of the Glillial Puzzle. These crystals should be comfortable to hold in the palm of your hand. It should not be rose quartz nor amethyst, nor a geode, nor rock quartz, it should be normal clear Quartz. Clear does not mean that it is see through like glass, in fact if it is totally clear there is a strong chance that it is synthetic, or crystal glass. So be careful to get a genuine crystal. I have found that it works well to get a Quartz Sphere but you can have a natural crystal single piece but not a cluster of lots of smaller pieces.

Google the term "buy quartz sphere" and find some purchase options.

For example, this is probably glass on sale as a crystal, and it is too big. For 51 euros. Don't buy.

These crystals are too small. For 23 euros. Don't buy.

This crystal is on sale for the unbelievable price of 450 euros. So it is crazy overpriced. Don't buy.

These one looks genuine at the time of writing

This is much too big

These are all too small

These would work just fine

This is no good because it is rose Quartz

This is an interesting one. Is it real? It looks real. But is it a fake?

The chances are very very high that it is fake because it is first of all too cheap at 18 euros. And one of the review comments talk about it being fake. A great example for Merlin's Puzzle, to discern truth from illusion. Good luck with you purchase.
